Welcome back to another exciting semester of graduate school in Clemson’s I/O psychology program. This is an exciting time for the field of I/O; therefore, this is an opportune time to be learning about, conducting research, and practicing in the field! Your CSIOP officers have worked hard to prepare a line-up of professional, social, and service opportunities we hope will inspire you to make more professional connections and get more involved in the program. Check out the calendar on page 12 and watch for details via email.

Remember that we are here to serve you—and we welcome your suggestions and feedback throughout the semester. We are looking forward to it.

Best of luck!
