

2022 Dicamba Use Program

Certification for purchase and use of specific dicamba products

Clemson University Cooperative Extension Service will offer two virtual 2022 Dicamba Use Programs during the month of January.

By participating in one of these programs producers and applicators will be certified to purchase and apply dicamba containing products in SC during 2022.

To register for the program date you plan to attend please use the Eventbrite link provided below:

January 18th – 5:30pm to 6:30pm

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/dicamba-certification-training-2022-tickets-243029526857>

January 20th – 10:30am until 11:30am

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/dicamba-certification-training-2022-tickets-243036246957>

Participants in the program that have a pesticide license will receive 1 hour of recertification credit.

DATE:
January 18th and 20th

LOCATION:
Virtual Program via Zoom

Registration:
Is required, there is no
cost for program

Contact:
Jonathan Croft
843-560-1806
croft@Clemson.edu
For more information or help with registration

Should you require special accommodations due to a disability, please notify our office ten days prior to the event.